

Dear Denise Hoffman,

This month we're very excited to talk about the great work of one of our consultants and their engagement at Macquarie Group. At auticon, we have some of the best Data Analysts in the world and it is fantastic to see our clients benefit from the success and knowledge of our people. Learn more below about Jarrad Moore's experience at Macquarie Group.

If you're curious to learn more about the way the auticon business model works and how our consultant can help boost IT capability in your organisation. I've outlined our high level approach in a recent webinar with colleagues in Malaysia. Check out the video and if you need us to help you scale up for your next IT challenge, why not get in contact today! (click here to email) we'd love to help you deliver!

All the very best,

Bodo Mann - Chief Executive Officer & Managing Director - Australia & Aotearoa

auticon works with Macquarie Group leveraging neurodiversity to improve data quality

Data integrity and reliability underpin any business’s ability to make critical business decisions. The larger the business, generally means more data and when volumes are high, looking for irregularities can be like trying to spot a needle in a haystack.

Jarrad Moore however is laser focused on data integrity and passionate about information processes and systems. Jarrad is on the autism spectrum and has been working with Macquarie Group helping them with analysing the quality of their project data and working with the team to put in place solutions to enhance their data integrity.

Why hire autistic talent?

As an award-winning technology consultancy, auticon recognises that adults on the autism spectrum find it difficult to secure or maintain employment.

To help them succeed, auticon pairs our technology consultants with job coaches who provide a compassionate management style. Likewise, we act as a catalyst for wider change in the organisation by integrating autistic colleagues into existing workplaces.
