

Inside the world's leading technologies...

auticon

Dear Mike,

Ever wanted to understand how inclusive your organisation is? Are you set up for to attract the best neurodiverse talent? This month we're introducing a quick 5 minute self assessment tool that helps you understand the answers to these questions. See below Neurodiversity Readiness Assessment or click here to get started.

Just last month the Australian Federal Government announced the Thriving Kids Program, we take a closer look at the program and unpack what this means more long term. The move looks like a positive first step but is it sustainable and what happens when these kids grow up?

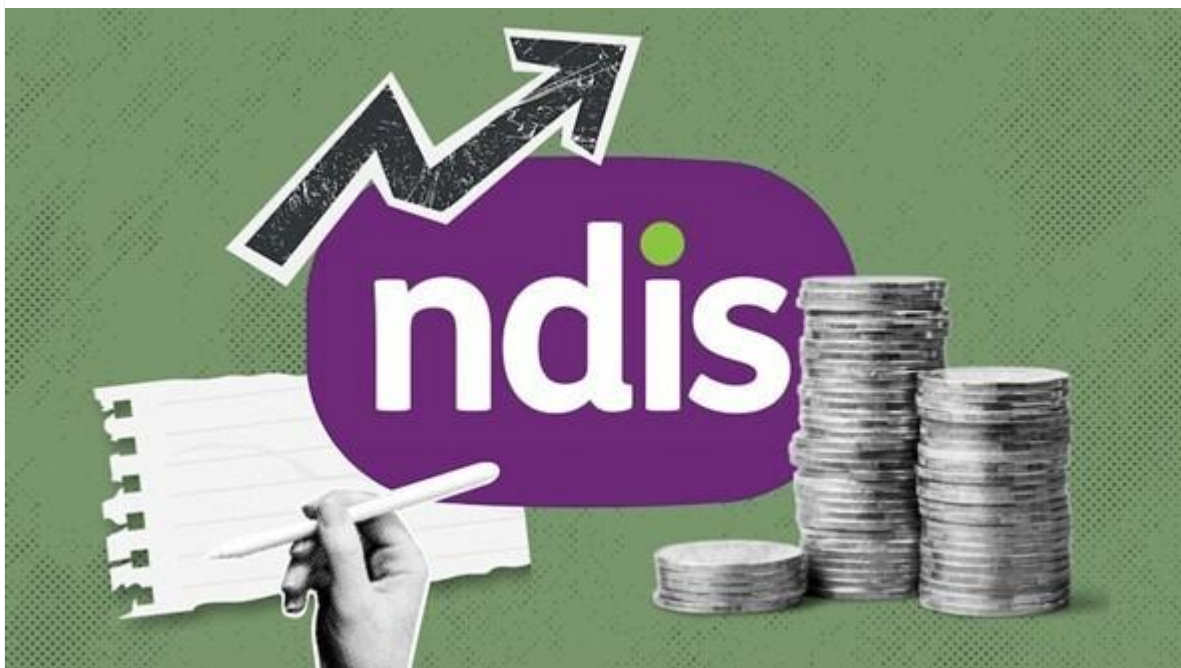

To all our technologists, coaches and clients, thanks for all your great work and remember - if you're looking for real IT talent to deliver your next project, why not get in touch.

All the very best,

Bodo Mann - Chief Executive Officer & Managing Director - Australia & Aotearoa

Autism diagnoses are rising: What happens beyond Thriving Kids? Australia must build employment pathways now.

The Australian Government's $2 billion Thriving Kids initiative is a bold and necessary investment in early childhood developmental support. Targeting children with mild to moderate developmental delay and autism, the program aims to strengthen mainstream services, such as maternal health, GPs, early education, in an effort to reduce pressure on the National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS).

But while early intervention is vital, it's only one part of the story. What happens when these children grow up?

Why hire autistic talent?

As an award-winning technology consultancy, auticon recognises that adults on the autism spectrum find it difficult to secure or maintain employment.

To help them succeed, auticon pairs our technology consultants with job coaches who provide a compassionate management style. Likewise, we act as a catalyst for wider change in the organisation by integrating autistic colleagues into existing workplaces.
